

Kindergarten students at Chase County Schools had fun while learning about fire prevention Friday, when the Imperial Volunteer Fire Department visited during Fire Prevention Week. Above, Darci Frier, left, and Jordan Jablonski are all smiles as they try on a fire helmet. However, these three students, at left, didn't care too much for the high shrill of the fire truck siren outside, from left, Remington Yaw, Nevayah Hust and Joshua Wright. Below, firefighter Skip Kelley demonstrates the use of fire-fighting foam, teasing the kids that he was making snow. (Republican photos)
