

The Longhorn gym at Chase County Schools was filled with monsters, ghouls, pirates and witches, but many of the costumes on parade last Thursday were less frightful. It was the Halloween Parade of Costumes, as students in grades K-6 marched around the gym to show off their getups to others students, teachers and the public. At left, kindergartner Emmitt Zuege as Mr. Monopoly complete with his bag of money walks with his class, and at right, fourth grader Cydney Spady attempts to urge on her not-too-happy sister, Miranda. Sisters Jasmine and Keylee Johnson, below right, were Little Bo Beep and her lamb, while all kinds of characters in Arlys Cupp's kindergarten class make their way around the gym.
