

It may seem early to be getting out the Christmas decorations, but it is only six weeks until Christmas. And, the city of Imperial crew decided to take advantage of the nice weather this week to hang the decorations along the poles on Broadway. The lights won't be turned on, however, until Wednesday, Dec. 2, the night of the Chamber's Old Fashioned Christmas Festival. Above, Ivan Hansen takes one of the decorations out of the truck along Broadway. (Republican photo)