

About 40 Christmas inflatables are bobbing in the wind at Tinker and Larry Raasch's yard in Champion. Every year the Raaschs add to their display. This year is no exception. A line of "vehicles" awaits a police inspection at 340 Kelly Street, while penguins and more cavort on the lawn. Santa and his reindeer will make a live appearance, hopefully on Dec. 19, Tinker Raasch said. Children will be able to meet the pair between 10-11 a.m. and 1-2 p.m. They will also be receiving a candy cane by the inflatable candy cane arch, which is usually up over the street only at night. (Republican photo)