

On Tuesday, just south of Imperial on Avenue 331, this lofty display of an American flag fluttering in the wind reminded all passers-by of the 11th anniversary of the 9/11 terrorist attacks in 2001. Ryan Greene said he was just finishing a project, had his tele-handler still out and wanted to do something special on the anniversary of 9/11. The flag flew proudly about 40 feet high. (Republican photos)