

Area residents will have the chance to attend a class on Nebraska's conceal and carry gun permit law in January.

Justin Grusing of Firth, Neb., who is affiliated with Nebraska Shooters, will conduct the two-day session Jan. 19-20, 2013. Nebraska Shooters is an organization that promotes firearm safety and training.

The classroom instruction on the first day will be at the Lied Imperial Public Library from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will address handling guns, proper safe shooting fundamentals and laws related to handguns. The second day will be devoted to firearm qualification activities at an outdoor shooting range.

The class is limited to 25 adults over age 18. Information on registration and fees can be received from Chris Tomky, at tomky@chase3000.com or from Grusing at www.nebraskashooters.com.
