

It's hard to believe, but Daylight Saving Time will return this Sunday, March 10. Following the adage, "Spring forward, fall back," clocks should be turned one hour ahead when people go to bed Saturday night. The official time change comes at 2 a.m. Sunday. Clocks will be returned to Standard Time, when clocks are turned back one hour, on Sunday, Nov. 3.