

By Russ Pankonin

The Imperial Republican

Chase County commissioners approved a 1&6 year road plan that includes several projects for 2013.

The county plans to armor coat 3.5 miles of asphalt in and west of Champion.

The project will go through Champion and then 3 miles west on Road 734.

Cost for the project is estimated at $66,000.

The other project for 2013 calls for replacing a bridge on the Stinking Creek on the county line road, Road 750.

The bridge is located between Avenues 342 and 343 in northeast Chase County.

Estimated cost for this project is $50,000.