

Spring is here, and so is the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Imperial Chamber of Commerce and Imperial Eagles Auxiliary.

The big hunt will be held this Saturday, starting promptly at 1 p.m. in Imperial's Campbell (city) Park on West 6th Street. Organizers encouraged youngsters to be there promptly at 1 p.m., and use the south entrance of the park on 6th Street.

Hundreds of candy-filled eggs will be hidden in selected park areas. Toddlers to two-year-olds should gather in the west end of the park by the golf course fence; three to four-year olds in the ball field's outfield; five and six-year-olds near the water tower; and first and second graders in the east section of park.

In case of bad weather, the hunt will be held Saturday, March 30.
