

By Carolyn Lee
The Imperial Republican

Sue Eskew, Minimum Data Set Coordinator at Imperial Manor, was presented with the Caregiver of the Year award for the LeadingAge 2013 Awards Program last week.

The award is presented to a LeadingAge Nebraska member's activity professional, social worker, nurse, nurse aide, dietary or environmental services employee who demonstrates remarkable commitment to the elders they serve.

A special aspect of Eskew's award, given during a coffee at Imperial Manor March 27, is that it was presented by Manor resident Katie Langenfeld, who was the Director of Nursing who hired Eskew in 1986.

Leatha Snyder, a medication aide who was hired by Eskew, also spoke during the ceremony.