

Housing project approved for Imperial

Project to include 10 rental homes

The State of Nebraska awarded funding Friday for two of four housing projects to Dana Point Development, a California-based developer with a number of projects located in Nebraska. The projects are funded by federal housing tax credits.

Dana Point will build 10 new rental homes in the Cornerstone Development in Imperial. He also won funding for a project in Aurora.

More details will be available in next week's issue of Imperial Republican.
