People of the community can join members of the National Honor Society (NHS) at Chase County Schools for a Cancer Walk Saturday morning.

Funds raised will support the Research Center in Lincoln.

NHS Advisor Trent Herbert said anyone from the community is invited to take part in the walk from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at the school track at the East 9th football field.

NHS members are collecting pledges for their participation and all other from the community will be asked for a $5 donation or more to take part.

People are invited to walk any amount of time during the four-hour event Saturday morning, Herbert said.
