

If the increased traffic around Imperial was any indication, Saturday's citywide garage sale event was another big hit. Twenty-nine sites throughout town and one just outside of Imperial drew hundreds of bargain shoppers starting about 7 a.m. Weather was cooperative, except for a little mid-morning shower. At left, Jim and Linda Pirog, who hosted a multi-family sale at their Balcony House Bed & Breakfast, were busy putting things out shortly after 7 a.m. Be;pw, Angie Worth found some bargains at Neva Molzer's sale on West 7th St. (Republican photos)
