

By Carolyn Lee
The Imperial Republican

Two new Postmaster Relief Officers are working at Champion Post Office under the supervision of Imperial Postmaster Jerry Lines.

Kathy Johnston of Lamar began her duties in late April, while Lisa Bartholomew of Champion started in February.

They split the hours the post office is open, each working three days a week.

Champion Post Office is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and Saturday from 9-9:30 a.m.

Johnston, originally from Bennett, Colo., has lived in Lamar for 12 years. She also has a craft business, Kathys-Korner.

Bartholomew has lived in Champion for three years. She formerly performed computer work for Hewlett Packard in Colorado.