

Next Saturday, Nov. 9, Imperial will be the site for a concealed carry class at the Imperial Fire Hall, starting at 8 a.m. It will be one of several classes given by Justin Grusing, owner of Nebraska Shooters of Firth, Neb., in Imperial. The class, which will be limited to 25 people, will run between eight and 10 hours, with 75 percent of the course to be in the classroom. Part of the class also includes outdoor target shooting and drills. Participants need to bring a pistol, 100 rounds of ammunition, a holster, safety glasses and hearing protection. People can get more details on the class at the website: www.nebraskashooters.com. Once at the site, click on “schedule” along the top bar, and find the Nov. 9 date where a registration form can be downloaded. Payment is due with the form, which can be sent to Chris Tomky, 74072 Ave. 314, Lamar NE 69023. She can also be called with questions at 308-883-6513. (Courtesy photo)
