

Last Thursday's Chamber of Commerce Christmas Festival provided children of the area their first chance in Imperial to let Santa know what's on their list. Four-year-old Isla Jenkins, above, shows both joy and maybe some nerves as she scooted up on Santa's lap for her discussion. Below, from left, Bo, Peyton and Paige Owens were all smiles for mom's photo as they gathered up on Santa's lap for a holiday moment. Outdoors, two reindeer from the Velvet Antler Velvet Noses Reindeer Co. in Wray, Colo., provided Christmas cheer with their furry coats and bells. See page B5 for more on the Christmas Festival. (Republican photos)

