

Prospective kindergartners visited Chase County Schools last Friday to get a preview of what school will be like next fall. The youngsters participated in a milk break, classroom activities, lunch, story time, recess, physical education and music. Above left, Remington Yaw, 5, prepares to make footprints with the help of volunteer Jeannine Cox in Arlys Cupp's class. Above right, Jordan Jablonski, 5, fills a May Basket with popcorn in Nancy Sorensen's class. At left, Arturo Miscles, 5, traces lines on a worksheet in Connie Thompson's class. According to Elementary Principal Nathan Vitosh's report at the April school board meeting, Chase County Schools is anticipating a class of 45 kindergartners for the 2009-2010 school year. (Republican photos)

