

Chase County will be at the SPVA conference wrestling tournament today (Thursday) in North Platte.

Hosted by Maxwell, a new SPVA team this year, the tournament will be held at St. Pat's High School, starting at 11 a.m. (MT)

Longhorn Coach Matt Vlasin said most of the SPVA teams have similar numbers to Chase County, with some open weights.

The meet will be held in a dual tourney format on three mats. Chase County's schedule is as follows.

11 a.m. (MT) Chase Co. vs. St. Pat's

12:15 p.m. Chase Co. vs. Hershey

1:30 p.m. Chase Co. vs. Perkins Co.

Southwest tourney Saturday

In their final outing of the regular season, the Longhorns will be at the Southwest High School tournament, east of McCook, Saturday.

Wrestling starts at 8:30 a.m. (MT)

Coach Vlasin said nine of his wrestlers will be in action Saturday. Tyler Roenfeldt will not compete because he will have wrestled the maximum number after Thursday's SPVA.

With the conclusion of the regular season this weekend, that means districts are ahead.

Chase County will compete in the C4 district at Gordon, starting next Friday, Feb. 13, at 2 p.m. (MT) and continuing on Saturday, Feb. 14.

Other teams in the C4 district include Ainsworth, Bayard, Bridgeport, Gordon-Rushville, Hershey, Hitchcock Co./Wauneta-Palisade, Kearney Catholic, Kimball, Loomis-Bertrand, Mitchell, Morrill, Sargent-Burwell, Southern Valley, Valentine and West Holt.
