Chase County wrestlers came home with five individual medals from last Thursday's SPVA Conference meet in North Platte.

Jeremy Mathews at 171 lbs. and Nathan Hinojosa at heavyweight were undefeated in the tournament, which matched each of the six SPVA schools in duals against the other five.

Also earning a first place medal was Keithan Cochran at 103 lbs., who finished at 4-1.

Earning second place medals were brothers Justin and Jeremiah Lueth, at the 135 and 145 lb. classes, each finishing with a 4-1 mark.

In team standings, Chase County finished fourth.

Coach Matt Vlasin said his team didn't wrestle with the intensity it needed to in the tournament.

"Our focus didn't seem to be there against some of the teams," Vlasin said.

One big highlight for Hinojosa was his defeat of Maxwell's Matt Helms, who had just four or five losses in the season.

Jeremy Mathews, enroute to his first place medal, pinned all of his opponents. The Longhorn senior moved up a weight class to 189 against St. Pat's in order to get in another match, rather than win by forfeit at 171.

Cochran did the same thing enroute to his first place medal, moving up to 112 against Maxwell, but lost that match. However, his 4-1 finish topped the other 103 lb. wrestlers.

Maxwell, who is in the SPVA conference for the first year, edged St. Pat's for the team title. Scoring of the top three teams was Maxwell 261, St. Pat's 257 and Sutherland 230.

Here are Chase County's individual match results from SPVA.
