

By Carolyn Lee

The Imperial Republican

The Saturday snow kept some people away, but 11 youth turned out for the Rod Fuller Youth Trap Shoot Sunday at the Robert Grams farm.

The youth were instructed concerning shooting clay pigeons, and were also able to participate in team shooting if they wished.

4-H trap instructor Dave Hogsett gave the youth tips, while the Plainsman Rifle and Pistol Club supplied the range officers and instructors. They were Robert Grams, Dennis Gockley, Jim Elder, Duke Jaeger and Kim Silvester.

Fuller supplied each youth with a box of shells and paid for the range fees.

Participants were Hannah Oliver, Trace Bley, Tommy Bley, Hunter Dillan, Parker Dillan, Lauren Prior, Cheve Lutz, Citori Lutz, Cole Lutz, Emma Ferguson and Mikael Kuhlmann.