Nordhausen wins $777

This year's event featured several major hole prizes, including a hole-in-one prize of a golf cart sponsored by Imperial Country Ford and $777 on hole number seven for closest to the pin on drive sponsored by the Hays Companies of Denver.

No hole-in-one was made but Wendi Nordhausen of Wauneta took home the $777 with her drive on number seven. The shot landed seven feet seven inches from the pin.

A total of 18 teams played in the benefit which began in 2008 as a fundraiser for the Chase County Hospital Foundation.

"We had a good turnout this year and actually had to turn teams away for the first time," according to Randy Vlasin, executive director of the Chase County Hospital Foundation.

The foundation also hosted a silent charity auction as part of this annual event. "We raised $2,040 on nine items with the auction," said Vlasin.

"Total dollars netted from this event will be in the $8,500 range once all expenses are in. These funds are used to help purchase equipment and meet other needs at Chase County Community Hospital and Clinics," he said.

Plus, The championship team from Enders Lake Golf Course donated their winnings back to the hospital foundation.

On behalf of the Chase County Hospital Foundation, Vlasin extended thanks to all of the sponsors, golfers, auction item donors and those bidders at the auction for their great support. "I also want to thank our foundation board members and staff from Chase County Community Hospital and Clinics that worked to make this a successful event."
