

The Chase County Progressive Agriculture Safety Day, sponsored by the Chase County All-Stars 4-H Club, is scheduled for Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Chase County Fairgrounds in Imperial.

For children ages 6-14 years as of July 1, the day will include hands-on and discussion topics such as grain dangers, fire safety, ATVs, electrical dangers and more.

Guest speakers include Katy Meister of San Jose, Calif., author of the "Katy the Safety Lady" books, who will discuss Internet safety, and Kristi Ruth, an Iowa teenager who nearly lost her arm in a PTO accident, who will discuss disability challenges.

The cost of the day is $7 per child. Registration is requested, with forms available at schools, newspaper offices and Extension offices. The Chase 3000 website also has a link to registration forms.

Organizer Chris Tomky said pre-registration is requested, but youth may register that day. For more information contact Tomky at (308) 883-6513 or tomky@chase3000.com.
