

Progress continues to be made on a new, 20,000 square foot collision and restoration center for Harchelroad Motors. The new facility is located on east Highway 6 just west of the Alco store. Sid Harchelroad said work will now focus on completing the interior of the building. The area above will serve as the base for the facility's paint booth, featuring downdraft circulation. (Republican photo)