offered in Nebraska
to clear up confusion*

AgCompliance has announced local seminars providing Soil Prevention, Control and Countermeasure (SPCC) education to farmers and ranchers in the southwest Nebraska area. These seminars will provide updated information about the SPCC law and how it pertains to cooperatives, farmers, ranchers and fuel distributors.

During these seminars, agCompliance will give information regarding the May 10, 2013, and Sept. 30, 2013, deadlines, regulations and compliance solutions.

Five seminars were scheduled from April 23-25, at the following locations. Here are two of them still available:

Thursday, April 25—10 a.m., Platte River Inn, 201 Chuckwagon Rd., Ogallala.

Thursday, April 25—2 p.m., Platte River Inn, 201 Chuckwagon Rd., Ogallala.

The seminars on Thursday are sponsored by Farmers Coop Assn. Refreshments will be provided. For more information regarding the SPCC Law, getting into compliance or any of the Nebraska seminars, please contact Jeremiah LaVigne at (855) 755-7526 Ext. 118.
