

By the looks of the traffic stopping, sweet corn sales were good on Broadway Monday. Members of the Chase County Stockmen 4-H Club were selling corn as a fund-raiser, so they can put on an appreciation dinner for 4-H and FFA families, 4-H leaders and Extension office staff Thursday or Friday next week during the Chase County Fair. At right, Keylee Johnson, left, and Tristan Jablonski had smiles from “ear to ear,” as they helped the older 4-H kids. Below left, Stevie Johnson and Emma Ferguson flash a couple signs to stop traffic. The corn was donated by Rod Johnson. (Republican photos)
