

Koellner Enterprises has been busy transforming the fuel islands at Frenchman Valley's new fuel location, formerly Bart's Corner. John Sandquist, fuel and energy manager for FVC, said their first priority is to get new concrete installed around all of the fuel islands and around the building so they can open the pumps. (Republican photos)

