

John Engbrecht became the new owner of the Colson Agency as of Jan. 1, 2014. Engbrecht purchased the real estate firm from Bob Colson, who has retired from the agency he's owned since 2003. The name of the business will remain the Colson Agency. Engbrecht joined the Colson Agency in March, 2005, and recently obtained his real estate broker's license. The agency specializes in ag real estate sales and sells residential and commercial property as well. Engbrecht said the demand for ag land has remained strong, despite a drop in commodity prices. (Republican photo)