

Next week's edition of The Imperial Republican will include a special ag section focusing on the grain industry and ag processing. One of the stories will focus on the expansion of the seed conditioning plant at Luhrs Certified Seed and Conditioning northeast of Enders. The new plant more than doubled their capacity. Owner Tom Luhrs will also talk about wheat seed development that will impact the industry over the next five years. (Republican photo)