

Plans for restaurant up in the air for now

By Russ Pankonin

The Imperial Republican

Imperial's On Broadway restaurant at 415 Broadway closed their doors as of Monday, June 29.

The local group of investors behind the restaurant, On Broadway, LLC, decided to cease operations, according to Brad Moline, head of the group.

The group opened the restaurant in June, 2006 after it was closed for a period of time.

Jack and Christy Stinnette operated Jack's Place for many years before selling the business.

Stinnette said he is exploring the possibility of reopening the restaurant in some form.

However, he said no definitive decision has yet been made.

Since selling the restaurant, Stinnette and his wife have operated a successful catering business, Jack's Country Cookin'.

Stinnette said he will continue to operate that business.