Chase County Schools (CCS) was the scene of the annual Longhorn Invitational Speech Tournament Saturday. CCS placed next to last in the event.

The winner was Perkins County, followed by Ogallala High School. Other schools participating included Leyton, North Platte St. Pat's, Wauneta-Palisade, Sutherland, Hershey and Paxton.

Placing second in Humorous Prose for CCS was Jacob Boggs. Boggs and Elizabeth Morse received a superior rating in Duet Acting for their piece "Imagine That."

Also participating for CCS was Bryan Bischoff in Humorous Prose with "Poof! No Eyebrows." The next tournament scheduled for CCS is in Wallace on Saturday.
