The “Treasure Hunt,” a musical produced by the Children’s Theatre Company of South Dakota in Imperial last weekend, was a-buzz with scorpions, owls, fireflies and penguins, but the theme of the story was the trust between friends.

Sponsored by the Chase County Area Arts Council, the play featured many local students, ages five through 12.

Audiences viewed the play two times on Saturday. It was directed by Tarah Fink and Brittany Drullinger of the Children’s Theatre.

Primary actors of the “Fun Factory,” the club the children were trying to save, were Bridgette Odens, William Lewis, Lexi Howard, Claire Kuenne, Mindy Castle, Emma Bauerle, Dominique Stott and Makayla DaMoude.

Business sponsors were The Imperial Republican, Wauneta Breeze, Pinnacle Bank and Frenchman Valley Coop.
