

Based on the number taking part in this year's mini cheer camp Feb. 2, the future for the Chase County Schools' squad looks pretty good. More than 70 youngsters participated, and then performed what they learned at the home basketball games last Friday night. At right, cheerleader Charlie Ann Carter leads the routine with an older group of girls including fifth grader Hannah Meeske. Below left, kindergartners Lizabet Mireles, left, and Neveah Martin perform their routine, while the entire group of future cheerleaders were enthusiastic in the bleachers, cheering on the Longhorns in their game against Bayard. (Republican photos)

