

The Longhorn Invitational speech tournament is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at Chase County Schools.

Featuring about seven schools, finals will begin between 12:30 and 1 p.m. Awards will be announced between 2:30-3 p.m.

Categories include Oral Interpretation of Drama, Duet Acting, Oral Interpretation of Serious Prose, Extemporaneous Speaking, Oral Interpretation of Humorous Prose Literature, Informative Public Speaking, Oral Interpretation of Poetry, Persuasive Speaking and Entertainment Speaking.

The public is invited to attend. Speeches will be heard in a number of classrooms. The public is asked not to enter a classroom during a speech.